Alliance Farmer
Runs Goat DairyBegan Business When Daughter Became Ill

Because of the sickness of his little girl and the chain of events which followed, a city man traded his salesman's desk for a farm and a unique dairy occupation.

Mr. M. M. Godwin of R. D. 3, Alliance, now has one of the largest and highest-rated goat dairies in the state. It all started 12 years ago when his daughter was ill and doctors prescribed goat's milk.

Not satisfied with the sanitation and quality of their only available supply, the Goodwins got a goat. After their daughter recovered, friends asked for the goat's milk. The demand grew and grew until Goodwin left his job as an automobile sales manager and made the goat dairy his full-time occupation.

The Marvel Dairy, which the Goodwins operate, now has 60 Toggenburg milking goats. Contrary to popular belief, female goats are completely odorless. At one season of the year the males do give off an unpleasant odor. But on this farm, males are quartered in a barn away from the dairy.

BABY GOATS, or kids, immediately after birth, are put into a goat nursery and are never allowed to nurse from their mother.

5 Area Groups
Hold MeetingsStitch And Chatter
To Get Sewing Aid

THE SENIOR STITCH and Chatter met this week at the home of Betty Jo Hawkins, Franklin rd. Roll call was answered by telling how much work each one had done on her dress.

Next Tuesday the girls asking help with their sewing will go to the home of the advisor, Mrs. Perry Hilliard, W. State st.

Games were played at the recreational period and lunch was served by the hostess and her associate hostess, Shirley Allen.

The Aug. 8 meeting at 7 will be at the home of Mrs. Eldon Groves, Millville rd. Inspection of projects will be Aug. 9 at the Hilliard home.

Miss Esther Jean Mayhew of Lisbon, assistant home demonstration agent, attended a recent meeting at the Hilliard home and gave some helpful sewing hints. Sewing books were also passed out to the girls. Mrs. Richard Kilbreath was associate hostess.

NEW GARDEN Junior Farmerettes met this week in the New Garden Church basement and chose Ruth Hayes as club queen. Roll call was answered by members naming their favorite radio program and plans were discussed for the camping trip to Dunn Eden Lake.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday at the Church.

STITCH AND CHATTER members met at the home of Lois Beardsley and planned for the inspection to be held Monday at Marcella Volpe's home. Judges will be Mrs. Pendry and Miss Mayhew. Arrangements were made for a swimming party to be held Aug. 9 at the Duke farm.

THE GENIAL GOSHENETTES meeting was opened with the 4-H pledge when members met Wednesday at the home of Marsha Stratton. A demonstration was given by Norma Ryser.

The girl who will represent the club in the health contest will be selected at the next meeting. Refreshments were served by Marsha and Mrs. Stratton. The next meeting will be held Wednesday at Goshen Grange.

JUST RITE members heard four safety talks when the club met this week at the home of Don and Bruce Kuntzman and Dick Wiggers. Jack Vincent was chosen to compete in the county contest Saturday night at Guilford Grange. Dick Wiggers is the alternate.

Two demonstrations were given—one on electricity and the other on the use of a power buzz saw. Plans were made to stage a ball game with a Winona team Aug. 1. A wiener roast will follow at Winona Memorial Park.

ALKALI WORKERS STRIKE PAINESVILLE, July 22—Picket lines were thrown around the plant of Diamond Alkali Co. early today. Negotiations for a new contract failed, and the old contract expired at midnight. About 3,000 persons are employed at the plant, which produces industrial chemicals.

A Want Ad Can Find It!

M. M. GOODWIN, owner of a goat dairy near Alliance, fondles one of the kids.

but are fed from cups. The nursery is in a separate section of the barn, which houses all young female goats from one hour old up to milking age.

The barn interior is painted with white enamel. It is electrically air conditioned and constantly cleaned. The milking goats are not allowed to range outside the barn but are fed at their junior-sized stanchions. Milking machines are used exclusively.

THE GOODWIN FARM covers only 10 acres and all the alfalfa hay and special feed is trucked in. The dairy and its facilities bring unusually high ratings from Cleveland health inspectors.

Mr. Goodwin takes most of the milk to Cleveland every other day. There it is distributed by a local dairy. Mr. Goodwin says he sold more than $10,000 worth of goat's milk last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin operate the dairy with the aid of a hired hand. However, a very important part of the farm is the 150 pound St. Bernard. While he has never bitten anyone, he quickly discourages visitors from roaming around the farm unless accompanied by the Goodwins.

He "makes up" with almost all accepted visitors, but a census taker, Lena G. Yarian of R. D. 2, Columbiana, recently made the biggest hit with the dog the Goodwins have seen in many months.

$7,752,140 Hike In Tax Values Shown

LISBON, July 22—An increase of $7,752,140 in valuation is shown on the tax abstract for the year 1949, as shown by figures in the office of County Auditor Irvin J. Vorndran, of which 1950 tax collections are being made. Of the total increase in valuations, $4,653,930 is reflected in personal tax returns over the previous year.

The total valuation of $124,689,550 includes 61.6 per cent or $76,633,630 in real estate; 18.50 per cent or $23,073,850 in public utilities, and 20.04 per cent or $24,982,070 in personal property. The increase in the duplicate is largely reflected in personal tax returns which, since 1944, have increased in valuation by $13,865,565 on the auditor's abstract.

The abstract for East Liverpool shows an increase of $1,179,880 to $30,727,100, and the school district an increase of $1,268,780 to $33,755,840. Salem city property is listed at $24,376,950 on the abstract, an increase of $1,875,260, while Salem school district property is listed for taxation at $27,046,070, an increase of $2,045,070 over the 1948 abstract.

Wellsville property shows an increase of $306,650 to $6,881,380 on the duplicate while the school district listed at $6,927,910 is an increase of $305,040 over the previous year.

East Palestine property with a valuation of $6,797,910 is up $804,540, while the city school district valuations of $7,516,880 is $662,070 above the 1948 figure.

County Lets Prisoner
Go, Won't Pay His Bill

LISBON, July 22—Columbiana County authorities released a prisoner from the Mahoning County jail Friday afternoon for the second time this week as one of East Liverpool's problems again appeared in the office of Sheriff Howard Clark en route to the Mahoning prison.

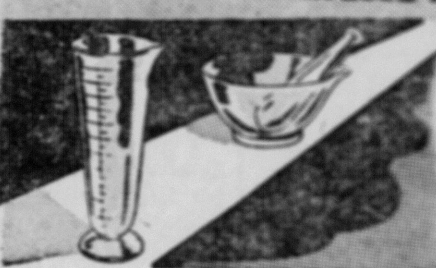

The patron of Sheriff Clark's taxi service was George Pickens of East Liverpool, who Tuesday was released on his own recognizance when Mahoning County authorities informed Sheriff Clark the man required medical attention. Pickens was held in jail awaiting grand jury action on a charge of auto theft.

His release, which was ordered by Auditor Irvin J. Vorndran, was obtained in order that the county might not incur a hospital bill for the prisoner's ailment.

Margin Of Security

THE STEPS taken after World War II to give the United States a wider margin of security through maintenance of a military reserve program are paying off.

The limited mobilization which President Truman has set in motion will be made possible by reservists and national guardsmen who are willing to give up some of their time to keep in touch with a job they might have to resume on short notice. As it turned out, the notice was shorter than most of them anticipated. Certainly it was shorter than their government expected; it must rely on them even more heavily for that reason.

The thought behind the reserve program in all branches of the armed services was the same. The United States had lost forever the prerogative of slow mobilization while its allies fought holding actions against strong enemies. If war occurred again, the United States would be involved immediately. In the event of direct attack, its security might depend on mobilization in a matter of weeks, instead of months. There would be no more occasions to train recruits with wooden guns while the country was getting ready for war.

While it is unpleasant to plain that the country isn't as well prepared to shift over to even a halfway wartime basis as it should be, it is pleasantly plain that its best chance of speedy and effectual mobilization lies in the fact its hundreds of thousands of reservists have been keeping in touch with their military duties. They have earned respect for being prepared to do something more tangible about their patriotism than talk about it.

Close, But No Cigar

ENTIRELY aside from the money to be saved by the proposals to knock out wartime excise taxes was the idea that war taxes should be removed in peacetime.

The fear that peacetime taxes would be stabilized at wartime levels, with further tax increases to be imposed in the event of another war now has materialized. The bill calling for reduction of wartime excise rates has been pigeonholed. The repeal bill came close, but it won no cigar. The public is warned officially to expect proposals for future tax increases if the new military emergency explodes into a full-scale war.

Again it will be implied that the increases are for wartime needs only and will be abandoned when the wartime needs are no longer present. That was the understanding about the excise taxes imposed for World War II. Yet five years after the end of that war Congress was still dilly-dallying over a proposal to repeal them.

The next time there should be a provision in the laws authorizing the collection of whatever new taxes may be imposed that they expire automatically with the end of the military emergency which justified them. Other wise, there will be no way to keep the government from stabilizing its peacetime economy again at wartime levels. Certainly no one nurses the illusion any longer that there is any point of satiety for federal spending.

The Baruch Doctrine

AT THE OUTSET of World War II, Bernard M. Baruch proposed a doctrine of inflation control—to freeze wages and prices, absolutely. It was rejected.

At the end of World War II, the spiraling inflation which resulted from the rejection became a major economic headache. Many believed the Baruch doctrine could have averted the headache.

If nations are capable of learning from experience, like people, the Baruch doctrine will be considered carefully in the event that it becomes necessary to impose price and wage controls. President Truman has warned these will come if voluntary self-discipline fails. That is another way of saying they are inevitable, because labor unions already have served notice of intent to demand higher wage levels, which would shift the inflation spiral into high gear.

No Shortages

THE FACTS and figures prove that the United States has no real shortages and no reason for hoarding and panic buying. There is enough of everything to meet all possible needs unless the Korean conflict should spread into a major war. Nothing at present indicates that is likely.

In World War II the United States was feeding and supplying most of the world. Now Europe is back into production and able to take care of its own needs. This country has a surplus of nearly everything. There has been no interruption in civilian production.

Excessive buying at inflated prices is harvest time for the speculators at the expense of selfish and timid people stampeded into the rush to lay in supplies which are not needed. It is a temporary hardship on those with sense enough to keep their feet on the ground and their money in their pockets.

Defense Program

By PETER EDSON

President's Plans Require Clarification

WASHINGTON — EVERYONE in Washington is today running around somewhat frantically trying to figure out in specific terms just what President Truman's new defense program means to him or his business.

Operating heads of government agencies supposed to have a part in the job are still vague on the details. They haven't been told who is to do what, except in a most general way. Clarification apparently awaits testimony by top policy officials before congressional committees.

Congress may of course drastically amend the proposed "defense production act of 1950," sent to Capitol Hill by the White House, so the effect of new defense curbs and controls on business and consumers can't be measured until Congress completes action.

A few general deductions are possible. A $10,000,000,000 increase in defense spending means roughly a 25 to 30 percent increase in taxes, since the President specified this Korean war should be conducted on a pay-as-you-go basis. But when or how the administration proposes to levy the extra taxes will have to await the President's promised special message and testimony by Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder.

Congress may of course throw out all their recommendations and write its own tax bill. One other general deduction from the President's message to Congress is that no new government agency—like the War Production Board of the last war—is to be created to handle mobilization.

FOR THE TIME being at least, all defense programs will be handled by existing departments and independent offices.

Five main fields of control are outlined by the President's message: Allocation and priorities over scarce materials will be handled by Department of Commerce. Commodities exchange control over speculators will be handled by the Department of Agriculture. Credit controls will be handled by Federal Reserve Board. Production loan guarantees and stockpiling will be handled by Reconstruction Finance Corporation or its subsidiaries. Housing credit control will be handled by Federal Housing Administration and its dependent agencies.

Consumer rationing and price controls are ruled out by the President's message and by the draft of the new defense production act, for the time being at least.

Voluntary allocation of materials is apparently out. The Taft Act, which set up voluntary allocations over steel, was allowed to expire in August, 1949. Industry didn't like it and now prefers rigid government controls.

Department of Commerce now runs the export control program and determines synthetic rubber production rates. Its import controls have all expired, with the lifting of allocations of tin. Commodities exchange authority in Department of Agriculture now has limited control over brokers, futures and customers' funds in trading on the principal U.S.-grown crops.

TWO YEARS AGO the President proposed that CEA be given control over margins and speculation, but Congress refused to grant it. Now the President is asking for it again. Resumption of credit controls will probably mean a return to something like Federal Reserve Board's regulation of wartime credit. Federal housing administration credit controls will be aimed not only at limiting mortgages, but also in channeling scarce building materials into defense production.

Just what a "production loan guarantee" will be, as called for by the President, remains to be seen. During the last war, Federal Reserve Board had a V-loan program, in which it guaranteed loans on contracts made by Army, Navy and Air Force. The new idea seems to be to channel all these loans into private banking institutions, with guarantees made by Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The way in which the new "defense production act" was put together is not without interest. National Security Resources Board now headed by Stuart W. Symington, has been drafting mobilization legislation ever since it was created. It has had recommendations from all government agencies, to meet all possible situations.

When the White House staff, under Presidential counsel Charles V. Murphy, was called on to draft a new mobilization law to meet the Korean limited emergency, it was possible to pick various proposals and put them together in relatively short time. This explains why the new composite sent to Congress by the White House came as such a complete surprise to many of the agencies.

This was not the all-out mobilization bill they had been looking for.

Great Godfrey

By TRUMAN TWILL

THIS department gives unequalled endorsement—the big economy size—to revival of interest in the musical instrument called the "yook." Great Godfrey, the same man who saved radio, is given credit for the revival. He calls it "ookalalee," but it is no more or less than the "yook" of tender recollection to all readers who were approaching the age of indiscretion during the administration of Warren G. Harding.

The chances are against the revival's ever reaching the flood tide of the first popularity of yooks in America. This is because the yook this time is being taken up by characters of immature years and outlook, whereas the first time around, the yook was part of the standard equipment of men and women with a purpose. It may be doubted that any impressionable girl of this advanced era will be made more amenable to reason by the strumming of a yook under the moon.

But that sort of thing formerly was as common as bathtub gin and gasps of horror over the diodes of the younger set, widely believed at the time to be rushing to the dogs to the accompaniment of "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," featuring a chorus of untrained male voices and 12 easy lessons on the "yookalalee." In its reincarnation, the yook is more likely to turn up in Boy Scout camporees and gatherings of bubble-gum blowers.

Furthermore, it was generally believed the first time around that all yooks were hot off the boat from the exotic Hawaiian Islands and endowed with South Sea magic. The instruments now being distributed are obviously of domestic manufacture and suitable only for strumming run-of-mine chords for ordinary tunes, not haunting music calculated to kindle jungle love. This may be due to the fact the Hawaiian Islands have been transformed in the meantime from the locale of jungle love to the scene of a military disaster known as Pearl Harbor.

But as was said at the beginning, the revival of the yook, even the part played in the revival by Great Godfrey, an old-fashioned boy at heart, can be endorsed without misgiving. No harm will come of it. The noise will drown out some of the uglier discords of a period which can use a little harmony, even though it be only chords strummed on a few strings of synthetic cat-gut stretched over a hole in a little box.

It may be doubted that the fledgling devotees of the instrument ever will approach the mastery of their fathers and mothers, who could play wonderful music while teetering in canoes, perched in trees and lolling in swings, but they haven't had the privileges. Many of the poor little tots never heard anything except the music that comes over the radio—symphonies, swing bands and that sort of thing. Imagine—the kids are goggle-eyed because Great Godfrey can strum a few simple chords on a gadget that any healthy American boy used to be able to charm lady birds out of trees with, never having taken a lesson or needing none, but just doing what came naturally.

The moon's closest approach to the earth is 216,423 miles from surface to surface.

We Can Think Of Better Ways To Spend A Summer Day

No Time For Jealousy Among Services

By DAVID LAWRENCE

OUT IN KOREA American boys are fighting bravely and many are dying but inside Washington there is a bitter feeling of criticism concerning certain decisions of the top command—General Collins of the Army and General Vandenberg of the Air Force—who are charged with having combined to squelch the opportunity of the U. S. Marine aviation units to fight in the Far East.

This feeling has been under cover for several days. The question came up early this week at the Pentagon where General Mac-

Arthur's requests are given consideration. Word spread to Capitol Hill where members of the house armed services committee now have determined to get at the bottom of the matter.

There may be a wholly logical explanation for it and the criticism may be doing an injustice to the head of the U. S. Air Force and to the head of the Army, but the fact remains that while the Marines have been permitted to call out their ground units of various kinds they have not been allowed to call out their crack squadrons of tactical aviation which afford air support for ground operations.

THIS DELAY has been a matter of behind-the-scenes discussion for days. Many persons familiar with Marine Corps activities say it just doesn't make sense to let the ground forces of the Marine Corps be called out and then to keep them from mobilizing their aviation units.

It doesn't seem possible that any professional jealousies on the part of the U. S. Air Force could be responsible for the block that has been placed against the use of the 30 Marine Corps reserve aviation squadrons and their 11 radar units which work with the air and ground troops.

The Marine Corps has its reserve aviation units 100 per cent battle trained. They are ready for instant service. These 30 squadrons are in addition to the 14 squadrons already in active service most of which presumably will fight with the marine division whose departure was publicly announced last week.

There are rumors that even these troops when they reach the Far East will not be permitted to function as a division but will be split up piecemeal. These, however, are Washington rumors and they may have arisen because of the known opposition to the call of Marine Corps reserve aviation units.

THE TRUTH is that General MacArthur alone will decide how the Marine Corps units now en route will be used and it is understood here that he has asked for them and wants them to function in the way they can be most effective, which is as a combat team in a ground and air combination.

The belief prevails that the difficulties that have arisen did not originate at Far Eastern headquarters but stem from a sensitive feeling here at the Pentagon that the Marines should not have their own aviation.

It never has been contended, however, by the sponsors of the Marine Corps aviation units that they would serve the corps alone. They are sufficiently flexible to be used as a tactical air cover for regular army divisions. They could be put into action with some of the army infantry divisions now in Korea.

It would be helpful and helpful if these rumors were scotched, as they do not aid morale and it is a tragic thing for any fighting unit to be held back which could be of real service. Inasmuch as General Collins and Vandenberg have been reported up to now as working in harmony with Admiral Sherman, it would be welcome news to discover that any disinclination to let the Marine Corps aviation be mobilized was temporary and will soon be reversed.

It is known that the naval fliers aboard the carriers close to the Korean coast have not been allowed to furnish cover for ground troops, though they are trained in low-level flying, but the explanation for this is that they have not been trained with the army units and there might be some mixup. They are given bombing assignments in a different area and are doing a sensationally good job. Maybe there's an explanation, too, for the failure to let the Marine Corps call out its aviation reserve units. (N. Y. Herald Tribune Syndicate)

Short Haul

By GAIL BORE

This Is Commuters' War

TOKYO — THE KOREAN WAR somehow seems almost as far away from Tokyo as it does from New York or Washington.

This is odd considering that a jet plane can fly from here to the war front in about the time it takes a man to smoke a 10-cent cigar.

But an air of solid confidence has replaced the tension that prevailed in the first weeks of fighting. There is probably less nervousness here than in the Pentagon.

THE turning point was the landing of a fresh American division on the eastern Korean coast above the vital port of Pusan. There is a feeling that the United Nations forces now can not only hold a bridgehead—they may even shortly undertake offensive action of at least a limited nature.

And there even is a hope that the North Koreans—faced by powerful ground troops and lashed by superior air and sea forces—may figure they have lost initiative and begin a slow withdrawal back beyond the shelter of the 38th parallel.

"If you see my old man over there tell him hello for me—and that everything's all right," smiled one wife who typed out my accreditation papers.

Many headquarters editions are still being out Wednesday and Saturday afternoon as well as Sundays—just as they did before the emergency. But they seem to be getting done everything that can be done at their level. It is always the frontline troops that have to work a seven-day week.

It is an old and unusual war in many respects. It is quite possible for a soldier to be wounded in Korea before lunch and to eat dinner that same night in a first-class army hospital in Japan, secured of finest medical care.

Some fliers call it "a commuters' war." They can return from missions over Korea in time to join wives and friends in a game of Canasta. But of course they don't all get back to that hospital or that Canasta game. It is still a war.

IT HAS NOT MOVED particularly hard among sad-eyed American aviators from Korea, who had to flee and leave behind all personal belongings except those they could carry. Many lost their passports and it has been a tremendous task for American State Department officials to check their identity, issue new credentials and help arrange passage home.

"Flight of some of these people is really desperate," said John Balfour, ECA official and Iowa weekly newspaper publisher. "Some are stranded without funds. A number of ECA employees have resigned posts because they no longer wanted to return to Korea even after order is restored. And they have no job in the United States to go back to."

Most useful aviators I met was one who said he had to abandon $7,000 worth of household goods in Seoul—and that didn't include cost of his swimming pool.

"That sounds like a lot of money," he said. "But did you ever figure out what it costs to clothe a family and furnish a house—from safety pins to a refrigerator? What I want to know is how and when I am going to get that $7,000 back? It took four years to settle most of the claims from the last war." (A.P. Newswriters)

Mary Lou Lutsch Becomes
Bride Of Robert O. Lora

ATTRACTIVE IN A DISTINCTIVE WHITE sharkskin suit and white accessories, Miss Mary Lou Lutsch became the bride of Robert O. Lora at the altar of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church at 6 p. m. Friday. She complemented her wedding costume with a lavender orchid corsage.

Rev. John Bauman, pastor, heard the exchange of vows in the double-ring service which was witnessed by the families of the couple.

Mrs. W. J. Seeman, church organist, played the musical prelude, including "Because," "At Dawning" and "Wonderful One." While the couple was at the altar, she offered "The Lord's Prayer" and "With This Ring I Thee Wed" and also played the traditional wedding marches.

As her sister's only attendant, Miss Marjorie Lutsch appeared in a becoming forest green gabardine suit. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of white carnations. Benson Miller, a brother-in-law of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. Lutsch used brown accessories with an aqua print dress, while the groom's mother was dressed in poudre blue crepe. Both wore corsages of Talisman roses.

The wedding reception was at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lutsch, Arch st. Laid with lace, the refreshment table was beautifully appointed in blue and white tones. A large tiered wedding cake was topped with bells and a miniature bride and groom. The tapers were in crystal.

Approximately 200 guests were from Salem, Youngstown, Cleveland, Detroit, Chagrin Falls, Newton Falls, Canton, Leetonia, Alliance and Minerva.

Mr. and Mrs. Lora are graduates of the Salem High School. She is a dental assistant in the office of Dr. Donald Lease.

Mr. Lora, son of Mrs. Myrtle Lora Burson of R. D. 1, Salem, also graduated from the Salem Trades Extension Class. He served in World War II and is now employed as a machinist by the Deming Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Lora left last night on a two-week honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside on E. Fourth st.

SUEDE SWEEPS THE CAMPUS . . . You'll see a rash of little suede hats this fall. One of the top favorites is this Dutch bonnet, perfect for back-to-college wear. In all the tawny colors.

PENCIL ROLL . . . This is another top hit for fall, designed for youthful wearers. It comes in suede with a jaunty feather. All three hats pictured are budget priced and designed by Stetson.

CHUCKER CAP . . . This sleek little hat in shiny melusine like a man's top hat looks like the first big fad of the fall season.

The Cookbook

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Utilize Food Value In Cream

CREAM, whipped or plain, is the prima donna of the dairy foods. Use it on berries, on puddings and on top of iced beverages. It packs lots of food value and is everybody's favorite.

Tips To Housewives

Find a rip in your favorite net curtains? You can patch them good as new by giving the torn pieces a thin coating of colorless nail polish and pressing the frayed edges together with your fingers.

Serve a puffy omelet with a tomato sauce for a hot-weather supper. To make the omelet separate the yolks from the whites, then beat both and fold together — whites into yolks. Don't turn the omelet when the bottom is cooked, just cover the skillet until the top is firm.

When onions begin to sprout they may be wrapped in wax paper or aluminum foil and placed in the refrigerator. Just make sure they are tightly wrapped so their odor won't escape and effect other foods.

Beef, pork, and lamb liver are just as nutritious as calves' liver and much less expensive. When there are children in the family it is wise to use liver at least once a week.

Use dry skim milk for package puddings; mix a package of chocolate pudding with six tablespoons of the milk and then stir in two cups of water. This is a good economy suggestion.

Chocolate-Marbled Pudding

(Serves 6)

Two squares unsweetened chocolate

1/3 cup butter

1 1/2 cups brown sugar

1/2 teaspoon salt

1 egg

1 cup milk

1 3/4 cups sifted flour

2 teaspoons baking powder

1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

1/3 cup chopped nut meats

2 tablespoons flour

1 cup whipping cream

Melt chocolate in oven in heat-resistant glass bowl, 1 1/2 quart size. Set aside to cool slightly. In another bowl cream butter; add sugar, salt and unbeaten egg together; add milk. Sift 1 3/4 cups flour and baking powder together and add to batter mixture. Add vanilla extract. Dredge nuts in 2 tablespoons flour; add to batter.

Add half of batter to melted chocolate and blend. Fill a well buttered, 1 1/2-quart heat resistant glass casserole with alternate sections of light and dark batter. Cover casserole and bake about 1 hour in moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.). Serve with generous spoonfuls of whipped cream.

Maple Nut Whip

(Serves 4-6)

One tablespoon gelatin

1/4 cup cold water

3/4 cup maple-blended syrup

2 cups heavy cream, whipped

1/2 cup walnuts, chopped

Soften gelatin in cold water. Let stand 5 minutes; add to syrup and stir until completely dissolved. Cool. Fold in whipped cream and chopped walnuts. Spoon into individual colored glass dishes for serving. Chill thoroughly.

Daily Dozen

Monday morning at 10 the Cleveland Browns, with 48 players enrolled, will begin their first practice of the all-important 1956 National Football League season.

That group of 48 will be trimmed down to 32 players before the first league game, an insignificant joust with the Philadelphia Eagles on Sept. 16.

Paul Brown, Cleveland's astute professor of gridology, has outlined a "precise but severe" program for his footballers. That phrase has an ominous sound, doesn't it?

What it really means is plenty of hard, gruelling work under a hot July sun twice a day. There will be a lot of excess sweat boiled off on that Bowling Green campus during the next month.

The Browns aren't the same ball club that was organized back in 1946. In fact, only 12 of the original group remains. Of the 48 players, however, 24 saw action with the team last season.

Gone from the scene are Capt. Lou Saban, who is coaching at Case; Edgar Jones, Ara Parseghian and Ed Sustersic. Dr. Les Horvath is practicing dentistry and Bob Guadio is staying with his contracting business.

P.B. has lined up some pretty good talent to fill the holes. He's got All-American Jim Martin from Notre Dame, who may be groomed for a guard post; Tom O'Malley, Cincinnati's great T quarterback, and others from the college ranks.

In the predraft shuffle, he latched onto Rex Bumgardner, Len Ford, John Kissell and Abe Gibrion, all tried and true players.

It's obvious the players, both new and old, are going to find it hard to clinch a job with the four-time AAC champs.

The coaching staff lists Brown, Blanton Collier, Fritz Heisler and Wilbur Ewbank and newcomer Tim Temerario. The latter takes over Dick Gallagher's end duties. Dick went to Santa Clara this spring as head man.

The Browns will be in camp until August 31, living at the Alpha Xi Delta house on the B.G. campus. Visitors are welcomed at practices any time.

If you're vacation bound to western Ohio, plan to drop in and take a look at the Browns. They may not look the same after Sept. 16.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

The fancy pants worn by Miss Gussie Moran have attracted such widespread interest that the United States Lawn Tennis Association speculates in an official release on what may be expected on her in the way of a costume in the forthcoming U. S. championship.

The staid and starched U. S. L. T. A. retraces Miss Moran's career as the wearer of fancy pants and propounds this serious question:

"What new treat in the way of a costume will Gorgeous Gussie Moran have for tennis fans when the national championships are held at Forest Hills, starting Aug. 27?"

Perhaps they have not thought of asking Miss Moran herself, or if they did ask her might not be able to get a reply as yet. It could be that so far she has not been fetched by the whim which will dictate her clothing for the nationals. We know for sure she is likely to have a surprise in this matter of her apparel and that the gate receipts will be responsive. The U. S. L. T. A. obviously is not unmindful of this highly important phase of the amateur tennis business.

Hence, this release on Miss Moran's fancy pants. The community goes on to say:

"A year ago the comely Californian created a sensation at Wimbledon when she appeared in the courts in a lace-trimmed garment. That made front page news in London and staid family journals all over the United States. It also made Miss Moran one of the biggest attractions in tennis."

Gents of the U. S. L. T. A., you can say that again and again and yet again. It so happens that Miss Moran is one of the best lookers in the business, with the cutest little mannerisms on the courts and more of an attraction than one of the drab dolls who are her superiors as players.

Minor Juggling

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

SOME new slants on minor league baseball, mostly from the prexy of a "half free, half slave" bush circuit . . . His big trouble, seems to be that the farm operators have made Class "D" baseball so expensive the independent can't compete . . . And now, realizing their own losses, they've begun to reduce their chains and that only makes things worse . . . Since cutting-down time, they've been shipping players of Class B, A and even Triple A quality into his "D" circuit . . . The unsponsored clubs can't get that kind of athletes and if they did, they couldn't pay them . . . Salary limits are based on paying Class D kids about $125-150 a month . . . The higher-rank club that farms them out absorbs the difference, sometimes as much as $375 . . . "That makes him a $500 a month athlete—some pay for a D loop, I'd say," the prexy adds . . . But just to show there's another side, the Brooklyn farm system, for one, has shipped 50 players to non-connected clubs this season.

Only one reporter and one photographer, "representing the combined American press" as the war dispatches used to put it, were allowed to visit Ted Williams' hospital room for the first interview after his arm operation.

When Fresno Thompson, the Dodgers minor league club chief, was managing New Orleans a few years ago, he took exception to an umpire's interpretation of a rule . . . As Fresno charged out, the ump reached into his hip pocket for the rule book . . . Thompson fixed him with a scornful look and remarked: "Don't tell me the rule book. I know it better than you do." P. S.: It was nice and cool under the shower.

Poland Riders Play Sunday Game Here

The talented young polo team from Poland will cross mallets with the Salem Polo Club here Sunday afternoon, bringing with it a strong season record. The team has lost only three games and is undefeated on its home field.

Bud Kimmel, Bunny Smolan and Ken Taylor are all young players, but since the game was introduced in Poland five years ago, they have been taking active part in practice games and training under veteran Roy Bates.

Kimmel has two years of varsity play and is developing into one of the most able and versatile players in the Penn-Ohio League.

Salem almost beat Poland two weeks ago, rolling up a five goal lead at halftime. The home team came back to win by one goal, however.

Garcia Injured As Tribe Loses 3-2

Suffers Sprain Fielding Ball

Mize Sparks Yankees To 14-5 Tiger Victory

(By Associated Press)

PITCHER Mike Garcia will learn late this evening just how unlucky he was when the Cleveland Indians dropped a 3-2 game to the Washington Nats last night.

Garcia, while failing to finish his fifth straight start, injured his right knee fielding a grounder down the third base line, in the eighth inning.

He was helped to the dugout, where Trainer Wally Bock said it was a sprain which would sideline Garcia for about a week.

"We won't know just how serious it is for 24 hours, but I don't think he has to worry about having anything more than a sprain," he added.

It was big Mike's best game since June 30, when he beat Detroit, 11-3, but it was not enough. Canrado Merriero, the Nats' righthander from Cuba, limited the Tribe to six hits, five of them singles.

Garcia had been knocked out of the box four previous times. The last two starts, at Boston, he failed to last out the first inning. The Nats got to him for two runs in their half of the first inning last night. Garcia walked Eddie Yost and Gil Coan, both of whom scored.

THE WINNING Washington run was in the second, when Mickey Grasso singled and eventually scored on a single by Yost.

The Indians tallied in the second when Bob Kennedy, who had walked, crossed the plate on Dale Mitchell's fly. Their other run was in the eighth when Mittenell singled, and went around on a single by Bob Lemon and fly outs by Larry Doby and Al Rosen.

Early Wynn, who has won nine and lost five, will work today for Cleveland against Washington's Sid Hudson, whose 9-7 record includes two wins over the Indians.

John Mize ascended the heights of his comeback last night as he belted out two homers, a pair of singles and drove in five runs to lead the Yanks to a smashing 14-5 victory over the pace-setting Detroit Tigers in the opener of a vital three-game series at the Yankee stadium.

The overwhelming triumph, witnessed by 62,823 fans, cut the Tigers' lead over the Yanks to 1 1/2 games. The Yanks can assume the lead by winning today and Sunday.

Mize, who took over the fourth slot in the batting order when Joe DiMaggio became ill, was kept in that position against the Tigers. DiMaggio dropped to fifth. The move paid off as DiMaggio clubbed three singles and a double.

It marked the second time since DiMaggio took over the cleanup spot from Lou Gehrig in 1939 that he has batted other than fourth for the Yanks.

The Yanks jumped off to a lead they never relinquished. The Bombers cracked Lefty Ted Gray for two runs in the first inning, added two more in the second, and drove him out with three in the third to take a 7-0 lead.

THE PENNANT race in the National League also tightened up as the Philadelphia Phils tied the St. Louis Cardinals for the lead.

The Phils, behind the eight-hit pitching of rookie Bubba Church, beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-1. Eddie Waitkus scored three of the victors' runs and Dick Sisler drove home two. Ralph Kiner accounted for Pittsburgh's run with his 28th homer in the eighth inning.

St. Louis dropped a 5-4, 11-inning decision to the New York Giants. An error by Eddie Miller allowed Alvin Dark to score from third with the winning run. Stan Musial sent the game into overtime with a two out homer in the seventh, his 12th, off Sal Maglie, who went the distance for the Giants. Cloyd Boyer went all the way for the Cards.

The third place Boston Braves remained a game off the pace by dropping a 4-3, 13-inning game to the Chicago Cubs.

Brooklyn's fourth-place Dodgers moved to within two games of the co-leaders by trouncing the Cincinnati Reds, 7-1. Veteran Preacher Roe tamed the Redlegs on eight hits to pick up his 12th victory.

Boston's powerful Red Sox pounded the St. Louis Browns into the dust, 7-4, and the Philadelphia Athletics edged the Chicago White Sox, 7-6, in 10 innings.

Columbiana

Firm Observes 75th Anniversary

Holloway And Son Oldest Store In Town

COLUMBIANA, July 22—Holloway & Son, oldest mercantile firm in Columbiana, now under the ownership of the third and fourth generations, is observing its 75th anniversary.

It was founded in 1875 by Leonard D. Holloway, Civil War veteran, who bought the general store of Jonathan Estery and later took in as partners his son-in-law, Jacob N. Yoder, and his son, Walter T. Holloway, the firm having been styled Holloway, Yoder & Co.

Several years after the death of the founder in 1895, Mr. Yoder withdrew, and the business was continued by Walter Holloway, who took in his son, Leo, as a partner under the firm name of Holloway & Holloway. After the death of his father in 1935, Leo continued the business under the same firm name, and since World War II became associated with his son, David, as a partner. They are veterans, respectively, of World Wars I and II.

The first location of the store was at the northwest corner of South Main and Railroad sts., but in the early 1880's it was moved to the southwest corner of South Main and Friend sts., where the present store building replaced the old one in 1922. The entire interior of the store building has been remodeled and modernized in the last two years.

THREE COLUMBIANA boys, William Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Grant, West Salem st., Glen Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Henderson, South Main st., and Carl Kleist, son of the late Carl Kleist, have enlisted for four years in the Army Air Corps, and are now taking training at LaLackland Air Field, San Antonio, Texas. Grant and Henderson graduated from Columbiana high school in May, and Kleist a year previous.

Columbiana Fire: In the Junior American Legion League of Columbiana County, Salem is scheduled to play Columbiana at Firestone Park at 1 p. m., Sunday. Following the league game, Wells Drug Store will play Rufer Contractors of Salem.

Smith's Funland Shows are concluding this afternoon and tonight a week's stand at the west entrance to Firestone Park as a benefit for the Columbiana fire department. The firemen will use the proceeds toward the purchase of their new first aid and emergency car, designed especially for emergencies in rural service.

Charles D. McBride, who graduated from Columbiana high school in May, will become a student at Ohio State this fall, having completed entrance requirements. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. McBride, 126 North Pearl st.

At its recent picnic in Firestone Park, the Ruth-Ether class of the Church of the Nazarene, decided to change the class name to the Kathryn Bible class.

The Metz family reunion will be held Sunday in Pavilion 4, Firestone Park.

The locomotive of the pick-up local of the Pennsylvania Railroad got off the track Thursday while shifting on the connecting switch between the Pennsylvania and the Y. & S. in front of the Columbiana Milling & Supply Co. The section crew managed to get it back on the rails after about three hours' work.

Linda Fisher and Jane Zimmerman of Jerusalem Lutheran church are attending the leadership training school of the Lutheran League of the American Lutheran Church at Grier School, Birmingham, Pa.

Rev. A. R. Brown, retired Methodist minister of Columbiana, will be guest preacher at the Presbyterian church at 10:45 a. m., Sunday.

Yale Swimmers Are Class Of AAU Meet

SEATTLE, July 22—(AP)—Two swimming stars out of New Haven, Conn., played rough with the records yesterday and one of them—sturdy John Marshall—showed a clean pair of heels to the hope of Hawaii, young Ford Konno.

Marshall, the human equivalent of a battle cruiser, bettered the world and American marks when he went the mile in 20 minutes, 8.6 seconds in the A. A. U. men's outdoor swim championship.

His teammate in the New Haven Swim Club, Jimmy McLane, bettered by two-tenths of a second the American record of 2:10.7 chalked up in 1942 by Bill Smith Hawaii for the 220-yard freestyle.

Catching the record breaking fever, the Cincinnati trio of Dick Fetterman, B. Soh and Dick Thomson, twice bettered the recognized American mark of 3:22 for the 330-yard medley relay. They backstroked, breaststroked and freestyled the distance in 3:18.7 in the preliminaries and won the finals in 3:19.4. The Chicago Town Club held the old standard.

Wiry Joe Marino of Columbus scored a mild upset by dethroning Skippy Browning of the University of Texas as three-meter diving champion. Browning led the qualifiers in the afternoon but got off to a slow start in the finals and never could catch Marino.

In fourth place at the midway point, Browning passed Roger Hadlich of New Haven and then squeezed by Charles Chelich of Chicago's Town Club into second place on his final drive. Marino scored 142.35 points, Browning 139.46 and Chelich 138.41.

McLane anchored the New Haven team in the medley but had to be content with third behind the well balanced Cincinnati threesome and a trio from the University of Iowa. Hawaii's Hilo Athletic Club was fourth.

Up for grabs today are titles in the 440-yard freestyle, 110-yard backstroke, 220-yard breaststroke and 880-yard relay.

Killed By Flying Wheel At Midget Race

CINCINNATI, July 22—(AP)—A wheel spinning off a speeding race car fatally injured a 12-year-old boy and caused injuries to two other persons here last night during the running of the midget automobile race program at the Cincinnati race bowl.

The wheel, ripped from the car of Albert Duris of Bedford spun into the grandstand and struck James Karpe, 12, and Robert Ellis, 17, both of Cincinnati. The Karpe boy died in a hospital and the Ellis youth was reported in serious condition.

The race car careened into the infield and the driver was not hurt.

SEOUL YARDS IDLE

TOKYO, July 22—U. S. B-29 bombers have brought rail traffic through Communist-captured Seoul almost to a standstill, the Far East Air Forces reported today.

Supplies Adequate, Hoarders Are Told

NEW YORK, July 22—(AP)—There's little danger of serious scarcities growing out of the Korean situation but a lot of danger from hoarding and scare buying, industry and business leaders warned today.

The warnings against needless overstocking went not only to shoppers but also to retailers, wholesalers and business in general.

Ross R. Ormsby, vice president of the Rubber Manufacturers Association, declared that "latest production and inventory figures clearly indicate that there is an adequate supply of tires and tubes for the public."

J. Gordon Daekins, general manager of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, appealed for shoppers to join with retailers in keeping prices down by "refraining from purchases beyond your ordinary needs."

William H. Burns, president of the National Sugar Brokers Association, declared flatly "there is no shortage of sugar."

He said your grocer "might be temporarily out of stock because of the excessive buying by his customers and also because of the unusual demands for sugar upon the sugar refiners is causing delays in deliveries to grocers"—but that supplies are adequate.

Questions and Answers

Q—How long did it take to build the Shasta Dam?

A—It took 12 years to build Shasta, the second largest dam in the world. It is exceeded in bulk only by the Grand Coulee Dam, in Washington.

Q—When was photography discovered?

A—In 1839. The process was discovered almost simultaneously by Daguerre and Talbot, two men working independently of each other. However, theirs was the culmination of research carried out for centuries. The theory was known to Euclid in 300 B. C.

Q—Where was the first All-Star baseball game played?

A—This so-called Dream Game began at Chicago's Comiskey Park in 1933.

Q—What event is generally considered to mark the beginning of the French Revolution?

A—The seizing of the Bastille by the people of Paris.

E. German Reds Laud N. Koreans

Term Western Allies As "Atom-Maniacs"

BERLIN, July 22—(AP)—An East German Communist convention sent "brotherly fighting greetings" and congratulations to the North Korean government today.

Some 4,000 delegates to the third annual rally of the Socialist Unity (Communist) party noisily approved "congratulations to the Korean freedom fighters in their struggle against shameful American intervention."

The third day of the party rally was again marked by the presence of high ranking Communists from all the Cominform countries, who yesterday applauded East Germany's Chancellor Otto Grotewohl's call to former Nazis to help drive the Western Allies out of Germany.

The latest issue of the Cominform newspaper, published in Bucharest, saw "increased danger of a new war" in the world saying:

"The events in Korea, provoked by the U. S. imperialists, and the fact that the warmongers have now passed to direct aggression, testify to the increased danger of a new war. The peace and security of the nations are directly threatened by the fanatical atom-maniacs."

Time Magazine Writer Believed War Victim

TOKYO, July 22—(AP)—A

jeep driver reported today William Fielder, 33, Hong Kong chief of bureau for Time Magazine, and a soldier were shot out of his fleeing vehicle at Red captured Taejon.

Pvt. Ruben K. Kimball of Houston, Tex., driver of the jeep, said he did not know whether Fielder and the soldier were killed or wounded. He said they may have managed to escape with other units fleeing the South Korean city if they were wounded.

Two other correspondents, Ray Richards of International News Service and Cpl. Ernie Peeler of Stars and Stripes, Army newspaper, were killed by Red soldiers in Korea on July 12.

Agents Raid Geauga County Dance Hall

CHARDON, O., July 22—(AP)—State liquor agents and Constable Neal Pendleton of Chester township wrestled their way through 200 patrons to arrest three men in a gambling and liquor raid last night in Geauga county, home of the closed Pettibone Club.

The raiders seized a dice table money box holding $387.75, 13 bottles of whisky, 18 cases of beer, a chuckaluck pad, a dice table, dice cage and stick.

The arrested men all pleaded guilty and gave Cleveland addresses.

They were Pete Di Palma, 25, fined $250 for gambling for gain and illegal sale and possession of liquor; Andrew Contenti, 27, and Gus Lannicelli, 50, each fined $100 for resisting arrest.

Raided was a place called Nichols Dance Hall, near the intersection of Routes 322 and 306.

Ohio Murderer Dies In Electric Chair

COLUMBUS, July 22—(AP)—Delbert E. Spencer, 53-year-old Athens countian, died in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair last night also four years to the day his former sweetheart was slain.

Spencer paid with his life for the fatal shooting of Mrs. Pauline Bailey, 33, near Glouster, on July 22, 1946.

The condemned man spent Friday with his sister, Mrs. Ollie Bogess of Charleston, W. Va., and Rev. K. E. Wall, prison chaplain.

Spencer lost his last chance to escape the chair yesterday when Gov. Frank J. Lausche declined to intervene. The governor said the pardon and parole commission had recommended that he not grant clemency.

Mother Charged With $5,909 Relief Fraud

ELYRIA, July 22—(AP)—A mother of five children, Mrs. Viola Jackson, 27, was charged yesterday with obtaining $5,909 of county relief funds under false pretenses. Assistant Prosecutor Harold Ewing said the money was accepted from the county between Feb. 1, 1948 and July 20, 1950 under the pretense the woman did not know where her husband was. He said the husband, Harold, was arrested in Cleveland for non-support and admitted visiting his wife about twice a month.

Gas, Oil Supplies Termed Adequate

WASHINGTON, July 22—(AP)—Unless the Korean fighting grows into a greatly expanded war, you need have no worries that there will be rationing of gasoline and fuel oil.

That's the latest word from both government and oil industry officials. It comes from the Interior Department's oil and gas division, the American Petroleum Institute (API) and the Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA).

Officials of the three organizations agree that the American oil industry is in a position to step up production sharply if military demands increase.

"The oil industry is in a very comfortable position to take care of a reasonable increase in requirements," the oil and gas division reports.

Banking Service of Time-Tested Merit

It was back in 1863 that this bank first invited the confidence and business of the people in the Salem area. As measured in terms of human life, that is a long time, since Civil War days.

During all these years, however, one thing has remained constant... the rule of "safety first" which governs the conduct of this bank, is the same today as it was when laid down by our founders.

Total capital funds of over $1,350,000.00 show the outstandingly strong position of this bank and give evidence of constant security for our depositors.
